

MONARD LAW

Monard Law - Associate in Tax Law

About Monard Law

Monard Law is one of the largest independent law firms in Belgium, with a strong local presence.

We have a heartfelt commitment to our clients. We aim to advise, assist, and support them in every possible way. We are not only experts in our field, but also like to consider ourselves as "companions de route", thinking ahead, leading, and inspiring. We always go the extra mile, working thoroughly, quickly, and honestly towards finding practical solutions.

For our co-workers, we want to be a place where you can call it your "home", where you are allowed to grow and take initiatives without limits. A place where you can connect your talents and passion with those of your colleagues and clients. A place where you can talk and listen, learn and help, where you can be inspired and flourish.

Due to our expanding activities, we are currently seeking an associate to join our Tax Law team in Brussels and/or Antwerp.

About the Role

"One of our mission statements is 'Really do what you truly love doing'."

We are looking for lawyers who are passionate about tax law.

And here is what we have to offer:

- You will enjoy a varied job scope, including advising on the application of tax regulations (e.g., tax incentives such as stock option plans, withholding tax exemptions, etc.), guiding clients in obtaining rulings, providing assistance in the context of mergers and restructurings, representing clients during tax audits, conducting internal and external seminars, and more.
- Furthermore, you will have the opportunity to work for various (international) clients, ranging from promising and innovative startups and large (family) businesses to multinational corporations in divers sectors.

Profile

- You have a degree in Law from a Belgian university and preferably an additional specialization in taxation.
- You have several years of experience as a tax specialist in a law firm, consultancy, or within a company.
- You enjoy working independently and are goal-oriented, you have a broad knowledge of tax and legal matters.
- You always strive for excellent quality, both in terms of legal content and service level.
- You communicate smoothly, clearly, and to-the-point with clients and colleagues.
- You have a good understanding of clients' needs and proactively ask questions to frame their requirements.
- You are a natural team player, focused on collaboration and sharing information with colleagues.
- You closely follow economic trends and stay up to date with tax news.
- Your mother tongue is Dutch, but you have a good knowledge of English and French.
